THREE OF INJURED DIE IN ZANESVILLE HOSPITAL

Father, Daughter and Latter's Two Children Among the Dead, Seven of Whom Were From Zanesville—Passengers on Second Train State It Was Only Running Three Minutes Behind First One.

Zanesville, Dec. 4.—Eleven persons are dead as the result of a wreck on the Pennsylvania railroad, near Dresden, last night, and four others are seriously injured. The breaking of an air pipe, which automatically applied the air brakes, was the cause of the collision between the wrecked train, a passenger train on the Cincinnati & Muskingum Valley route, and a Cleveland, Akron & Columbus division passenger train, which followed it on the single track between Trinway and Zanesville. The latter train broke down and a flagman was sent back to flag the C. & M. V. train, which was too close, however, to prevent the collision, and its engine crashed through the rear coach of the C. A. & C. train.

The dead and injured were all in the rear coach and several escaped by jumping. Many of those injured were victims of the scalding steam from the colliding engine.

The dead are:

Mrs. B. A. Emerson, aged 32, of Zanesville.
Jacob Burger, father of Mrs. Emerson, of Zanesville.

Mrs. Emerson's son, aged 2.
Mrs. Emerson's daughter, aged 3.
Max Harris, Lodi.

Henry Bartles, aged 30, Akron.
Henry Baibian, Cleveland, manager of Dresden branch of the Cleveland and woolen mills.

Mrs. Mary Taylor, Zanesville.
L. H. Blaney, Zanesville, C. & I. brakeman.

Wilbur Ludwig, Zanesville.
Henry E. Haskell, Zanesville, O. The injured:

James Bryant, 45, Lancaster; engineer; severe cuts and scalded; is expected to live.

Frank Saup, aged 32, Lancaster; express messenger; cut and bruised.

Guy Altrock, aged 30, Bremen; oth hands badly scalded.

George Einsel, aged 45, Killbuck; allyway mail clerk; face cut and badly scalded.

Jacob Burger, Wilbur Ludwig and Mary Taylor were taken from the wreck to the Good Samaritan Hospital at Zanesville this morning.

Henry Baibian of Cleveland was found on top of the engine boiler and the others were thrown in all directions.

Just before he died, Max Harris told a traveling salesman, asking if he had any chance for life, and then told there was no hope. He told attendants to notify his sweetheart, Julia Rodman of Paola, Kan., whom he was engaged.

Harris and Bartles, who died within an hour of each other in a hospital were chums and both wore Sigma Chi fraternity pins.

The engine of the C. & M. V. train, which plowed entirely through the rear coach, split it entirely in two, and a remarkable fact is that the engine held to the rails, while the rest of the coach dropped to each side of the track.

The groans of the injured could be heard for a considerable distance. All of them were conscious and were suffering terribly.

Henry Baibian was one of the best known woolen mill men in the country. He had been located at Cleveland for many years, but for the last eight years was manager of the Dresden branch of the Cleveland woolen mills.

Mrs. Emerson was found with her head jammed through a window and her children were found dead beside her.

The two trains are supposed to have been ten miles apart in the seven miles between Trinway and Zanesville, but passengers of the train state it left the Trinway spot just three minutes after the first one.

Superintendent Paul Jones of the city made the following statement last night:

"The investigation has not been completed. The accident was caused by west-bound Zanesville division passenger train No. 34 colliding with the rear end of Pennsylvania passenger No. 125, the train from Cleveland, about two and a half miles south of Dresden. Train No. 125 was stopped by one of the air pipes breaking in the coach and automatically applying the airbrakes. The flagman was immediately sent back to flag the train following, but did not have time to get far enough back."

The body of the unidentified man has not yet been claimed. A letter on his body contains the names of F. M. Sears and O. N. Rittenhouse, and the letter seems to have been written to the American Agricultural Chemical Company at Cleveland.

In the letter mentions that he will be in a law suit next Saturday, his first case. The letter was scarcely legible, being covered with blood and grime. The body of the man was literally cooked to pieces by the escaping steam.

NEWARK MEN CAME NEAR BOARDING THE WRECKED PASSENGER

Dr. W. E. Wiyarch and William Johnston of West Main street, this city, came very near taking the ill-fated train at Trinway last night and if they had not been fortunate in catching the Pennsylvania west bound passenger might have been killed or badly injured.

Messrs. Wiyarch and Johnston had been hunting in the vicinity of Cooperdale during the day and boarded the train which was afterwards wrecked, near Dresden. They rode as far as Trinway where they expected to catch the Pennsylvania train for Newark. At Trinway a railroad employe informed them that their train for Newark had departed. They started for the Zanesville train intending to take the trolley from that city to Newark. Just as the men were mounting the steps the gentleman who had given them the information about their train having departed, rushed to the car and told the Newark men that by hurrying down to the switch they could catch the Pennsylvania train which was on the side track waiting for another train to pass. They did so and thus avoided being passengers on the wrecked C. A. & C. train.

MAX L. HARRIS

KILLED IN WRECK

WELL KNOWN HERE

The Max L. Harris, killed in the wreck at Zanesville was a bond salesman for the Titilison & Wolcott Co. of Cleveland. He was in Newark last week and called at the office of Fugh & Co. and upon the banks. He was a graduate of the University of Wooster, class of 1910, and was a member of the Sigma Chi fraternity. His home was at Lodi, Ohio. He was a pleasant, agreeable young man and well liked by his Newark acquaintances.

STATE BEGINS

INVESTIGATION

State officials today began an investigation of the wreck. Commissioner John Sullivan of the State Public Service commission went to the scene of the wreck today and will make a report of his findings to the commission. This will be only preliminary to an inquiry to be conducted later.

WELL KNOWN

PHYSICIAN

IS CALLED

Granville is sorrowing today in the death of Dr. W. C. Davies, a brother of Attorney J. R. Davies, of this city, and for many years one of the most successful practitioners in Licking county, who was called to the Great Beyond at five o'clock this morning after an illness of several years. The funeral services, to be held from the Davies residence in Granville at two o'clock Friday afternoon, will be conducted by Rev. Dr. Newell, pastor of the Presbyterian church in that village, interment following in Granville cemetery, where other members of the family are buried. The deceased, had he lived until January 1, would have been sixty-six years of age.

As a boy he manifested unusual proficiency in his studies, entering the Freshman class of Denison University at the early age of thirteen. After completing his Sophomore year he spent some time in a drug store and commenced the study of medicine. He then became superintendent of the public schools at Granville, which position he occupied for seven years, when he resumed the study of medicine, and graduated at the University of the City of New York as valedictorian of a class of two hundred and five, receiving also honorable mention from the university.

For many years he was a successful practitioner in his native village, but has been for a number of years in declining health. He married Harriet, the daughter of Ebenezer Partridge, with whom he lived happily until the time of her death in the spring of 1905. He became a member of his Presbyterian church to which his wife belonged.

Dr. Davies is survived by two brothers and three sisters, D. Lewis and Ellen Davies of Granville, J. R. Davies, attorney, of Newark, Mrs. Dr. Lynch of Greenville and Mrs. Judge Swartz of Wooster, and also a son of a deceased sister, Dr. Ernest Swartz, of Cincinnati.

CHIEF BLIZZARD

ORDERS OUT ALL

SLOT MACHINES

Following closely upon the order abolishing the use of dice boxes in saloons, pool rooms, cigar and confectionery stores Chief of Police Blizzard last night issued another order, which included all slot machines of any description in any saloon, pool room, cigar or confectionery store or other place of business.

The order was issued by telephone to the officers after they had gone out on their beats. It not only includes the gambling machine but it places a ban on all machines which have been used in many cigar stores for the vending of cigars where one is given for each nickel deposited, with the chance of getting two or three for the one nickel.

It is understood that some of the operators of the latter style of machine, will oppose the order and submit to arrest and make a test case of the order.

The last order of the police department now places a ban on every form of gambling. According to orders issued poker games, dice games and slot machines will not be allowed.

For the past few months the slot machines have reaped a rich harvest. It is alleged that the new style of machine which gives gum for each coin played, pays an enormous profit to the owners who lease them to the proprietors of various saloons, cigar stores and pool rooms. This profit is shared with the owner of the place on a percentage basis. It is said that a hundred or more of the machines will be put out of business by the new order.

TURKEY CANNOT SECURE FOOD FOR ITS TROOPS DURING THE ARMISTICE

Sofia, Bulgaria, Dec. 4.—The peace plenipotentiaries representing Turkey, Bulgaria, Serbia and Montenegro will begin their work in London Friday of next week. The armistice signed at Baghatche last evening took the revised form drafted by Dr. S. Danoff, speaker of the Bulgarian parliament.

It contains the following conditions: First, the belligerent armies shall remain in their present positions; Second, the besieged Turkish fortress shall not be reoccupied; Third, the reoccupation of the Bulgarian army in the field shall be carried out by way of the Black Sea and Adrianople, commencing 10 days after the signature of the armistice; Fourth, the negotiations for peace shall begin in London on December 13th.

EXPECT TO STRIKE OIL ON MOSER FARM; SAND PIERCED

The farm about seven miles north east of Newark, owned by Joseph Moser, of 167 Mahoning street, is the scene of great activity today and farmers in the vicinity of the place are greatly excited over the splendid prospects of striking oil during the next twenty-four hours.

The experts who have been drilling on the farm for the past several weeks reached what is known as the glacial drift sands late yesterday afternoon, the presence of which is usually found in connection with heavy oil producing fields. This was found at a depth of 2775 feet. Examination of the grit at once showed that their expectations were to be realized, for there was a substantial presence of the crude petroleum visible, even with the naked eye.

About eighteen feet of sand was pierced today, and the drillers are confident that tomorrow will witness the striking of the lead. The drilling is becoming much easier every hour indicating the presence of the valuable viscous fluid.

Local owners of farms in that vicinity are watching the developments on the Moser farm with great interest, and it is likely that a number of Newark capitalists will visit the Moser farm tomorrow to watch the breaking of the crust.

If oil is found, there is no doubt that other wells will be started at once and the field developed to the utmost without delay.

CHORALISTS IN ANNUAL ELECTION

To those who heard the first actual recital of the oratorio and introit of Guonod's "Deeds and Life" at the meeting of the Newark Choral Union last evening, there must have come the conviction that Newark is to be given an insight into the beauties of music to a far greater extent than it has ever conceived.

The chorus, which already has an enrollment of nearly 200 members, comprising many of the city's most talented vocalists, is rapidly meeting the demands of the heavy score. Director J. M. Priske is very favorably impressed, not only by the ability of his singers, but by the splendid manner in which they attack the difficult features of the oratorio and the rapidity with which they assume the dramatic intensity required in the production of the composition. It is believed that the work will be ready for public rendition about March 1, and will be given with the assistance of a symphony orchestra.

Officers were elected at Tuesday's meeting, the members selecting Prof. J. M. Priske, of Denison University as director and Fred Kirkpatrick, the efficient president of last year's organization, to succeed himself in that office. Ursel K. Swain was elected recording secretary and James Morrison corresponding secretary. Other officers filled by unanimous election were: Miss Gladys Thompson, librarian; Miss Julia Sells, pianist; Miss Anna Rigger, assistant pianist, and Mr. E. T. Bowers, treasurer.

The next meeting of the Choral Union and the last before the Christmas holidays, will be held at the Fifth Street Baptist church, next Tuesday evening. Prof. Priske cordially extends an invitation to all singers of the city to join with him in the development of the Guonod oratorio and will hold the membership rolls open until the meeting next week. There will be no dues for members this year, the entire burden of expense to be assumed from a fund to be created by a recital in this city by Prof. R. E. Mitchell during Christmas week, under auspices of the Choral Union.

CIRCUIT DECISION AFFIRMED

A mandate from the Supreme court of Ohio has been sent to the Circuit court of Licking county showing the affirmance of the Supreme court of the case of The Consumers Brewing company vs. Mary V. Hardway, et al. The case has been an interesting one involving the title of the Bazaar building on the north side of the square.

The case was brought in Common Pleas court in February, 1910, by Mary V. Hardway, Eliza J. Henthorne and Stephen A. Gill vs. The Consumers Brewing company and the unknown heirs of Sarah Ann Wadhams.

In the trial of the case in Common Pleas court a partition was decreed, Mary V. Hardway getting one-twelfth, Eliza J. Henthorne one-twelfth, Stephen A. Gill one-twelfth and the heirs of Sarah Ann Wadhams one-twelfth. The Consumers Brewing company owning eight-twelfths.

The brewing company then attempted to take the case to the Circuit court on appeal. Kibler and Kibler and J. R. Davies, the attorneys for Mary V. Hardway moved the Circuit court to dismiss the case on the ground that it was not appealable. This motion was sustained by the court, and the appeal was dismissed. The brewing company then prosecuted error to the Supreme court of Ohio, which court by its mandate has affirmed the judgment of the Circuit court.

This action on the part of the Supreme court disposes of the branch of the case involving the appeal. The brewing company will claim the value of all improvements placed on the property, which will include the building. The question of rents and profits were expressly reserved by the Common Pleas court in its disposition of the case.

An interesting feature in the case is the fact that the Supreme court is said to have been equally divided in rendering the present judgment.

Chicago, Dec. 4.—Jack Johnson, the negro pugilist, yesterday married Miss Lucile Cameron, the 19 year old white girl of Minneapolis, who recently appeared as a witness against him before the federal grand jury, which returned indictments charging him with violations of the Mann act. The ceremony was performed at the home of Johnson's aged mother, on the South Side, by H. A. Roberts, a negro preacher, in the presence of a dozen colored people and several newspaper reporters.

Miss Cameron wore a tailor-made suit of shepherd plaid and a large black picture hat with purple plumes. Johnson had a suit of the same material made especially for the occasion.

HOGAN ASSERTS BRIBERY

Expect Case to Go to Jury Late

Today—Evidence Tends to

of Daytonite.

Columbus, Dec. 4.—The bribery case against Senator George K. Cetone, of Dayton, will probably go to the jury late today. Judge Marcus G. Evans gave to the state and the defense two and one half hours each for the summing up of their cases. Attorney General Hogan began the pleading for the state and was followed by Attorney Belcher of the defense. Attorney Mattern will follow for the defense and Prosecutor Turner will close.

Attorney General Hogan pointed out that the record of the telephonic device proves that Senator Cetone accepted $200 from Detective Smiley at a local hotel for his work in interest of the Cetone-Whitemore insurance bill and claimed that Senator Cetone was so influenced that he immediately went to the telephone and asked Senator Huffman to go to the decency room in the hotel and get some of the graft money.

"The essence of bribery is prostitution of a public trust and a betrayal of public interest, and that is what Senator Cetone did," declared Attorney General Hogan. "The character witnesses introduced by the defense knew the character of Senator Cetone in Dayton but not in Columbus, as the telephonic device record shows."

The Attorney General defended the testimony of Representative George B. Nye, of Waverly, who pled guilty to accepting a bribe by saying: "Probably the most righteous act Dr. Nye has ever performed was his coming before this jury and telling on Senator Cetone."

Attorney Belcher declared that if Senator Cetone did accept money from Detective Smiley, it could not be considered bribery as Senator Cetone could not be influenced in favor of a bill he was already working for. The defense also claimed that Detective Smiley had testified that he had come to Columbus to attempt to bribe Ohio legislators and that he should be held in the light of a briber, as the state had failed to show that he had been working in connection with the state as a detective.

Dr. Hartman Recalls Cures Made By Old-Time Pe-ru-na

S. B. HARTMAN, M. D.

I have been practicing medicine since 1855. Most of that time I have been using Pe-ru-na as my principal remedy. So many unexpected recoveries have been made by those for whom I have prescribed Pe-ru-na that it would take a large book to contain them all. They keep coming up to my mind one by one. Whether on my farm, or at home, whether playing with my grandchildren or conducting my large office business, these incidents of old-time Pe-ru-na cures steal upon my memory unawares.

Take, for instance, a single case from the extensive list of similar cases in my diary of cases treated, as an example of the cures that Pe-ru-na used to make.

Mrs. T. S. Eberlein (then of Pittsburg, Pa., afterwards of Keokuk, Iowa), during the year 1882 began to develop usual symptoms of catarrh of the lungs. Cough was one of the first symptoms, which gradually grew worse in spite of all treatment. The sputa, at first slight, became abundant and purulent, occasionally streaked with blood. A rapid loss of flesh and flagging appetite filled her relatives with forebodings. The hectic flush, night sweats, and suppression of the menses, left no doubt as to the nature of her disease.

From the first physicians had been employed. Cough medicines, tonics, cod liver oil and stimulants were resorted to by her physicians without avail.

The first physician employed was Dr. Williams, Penn. Ave., Pittsburg. Dr. Gilford, of Allegheny City, was next called; and then Dr. Riggs of Pittsburg.

During this history of conflict with this terrible disease frequent consultations were held, but nothing checked the steady progress of her malady. Not a doubt had existed in the minds of her physicians or friends as to the nature of her disease, nor as to its fatal termination. The repeated examinations of her lungs indicated the rapid strides with which she was nearing the end.

Her physicians were honored members of the medical fraternity, in whom Mrs. Eberlein's husband and family had perfect confidence. And the sorrow with which they listened to their decision that they had exhausted everything known to them in vain for the relief of the wife and mother of the afflicted household can be better imagined than described. As is common to this sort of patients, Mrs. Eberlein continued hopeful long after her attendants believed her to be beyond cure.

I was practicing at the time in Pittsburg, and a fancy that I would be able to relieve her was during her illness, repeatedly expressed by Mrs. Eberlein, but it was regarded as the merest whim; and, as they were employing the best medical talent the city afforded, no attention was paid to it. At last she became so weak and emaciated that an attendant was constantly at hand to lift her during the terrible coughing spells to which she was subject, and which were frequently followed by alarming sinking spells, during which she was often thought to be dying. It was during one of these frightful paroxysms when her husband was supporting her tenderly and vainly trying to palliate her sufferings that she again expressed her belief that if Dr. Hartman were sent for he could relieve her.

Willing to indulge her any wish, as she was thought to be dying by all, I was immediately sent for, but being very busy was not able to respond until late in the evening of the afternoon on which I was sent for. It was not expected that she would survive until I could reach her home, but hope kept her alive until I came.

It would be difficult to imagine a more discouraging case for a doctor to undertake to cure than Mrs. Eberlein's at the moment of my first visit. Let me describe her symptoms.

A drawn, pinched countenance, of a deathly pallor, and livid lips. Sunk, fixed, staring eyes, with a glassy brightness. Wasted in body to a mere shadow. Pulse wholly imperceptible at the wrist, but the heart feebly fluttering. Extremities cold and clammy, finger nails blue, breathing hurried and gasping, utterly exhausted and hopeless. It certainly seemed as if I had only arrived in time to see her die.

The first question of the distracted husband was: "Is my wife dying?" But my undaunted faith in the efficacy of Pe-ru-na is such, even in this awful emergency, that I replied: "Sir, you and I are now in the vigor of life; it may happen that this lady will live to see us buried."

After a hasty examination of the case I prescribed Pe-ru-na to be taken every hour, and if she was not better in the morning to let me know.

It was two weeks before I again heard from the case, when the husband entered my office, radiant with joy, and, not waiting for the usual salutations, exclaimed:

"Doctor, my wife is well!"

"Oh, no, you mean she is better," I replied. But the enthusiastic husband insisted that his wife was "well and the heartiest eater at the table."

The fact was that, while she had made astonishing improvement she was obliged to continue the use of Pe-ru-na many months. In less than a year she was entirely well, and has remained so since, and her treatment from the beginning to the end was Pe-ru-na and nothing else. To have seen her at the time of the first visit it would have been impossible to believe that any medicine or other earthly power could have saved her.

This case is no more unusual or astonishing than a great many others that my list contains, not only of diseases of the lungs, but of all mucous surfaces.

Cases of dyspepsia, diarrhea and dysentery which have withstood all other treatment, have yielded at once by the use of Pe-ru-na.

Numerous cases of Bright's disease of the kidneys, acute catarrh and rheumatism, female diseases, that had been treated locally for years, were instantly relieved and finally recovered by Pe-ru-na. In short, every disease affecting any mucous membrane of the body that has not already gone beyond all earthly help, frequently makes astonishing recovery.

As a general tonic and appetizer Pe-ru-na has no superior. It is a certain remedy for worn-out or tired-out human nature. Cases of nervous prostration, loss of vitality and sleeplessness are all treated by Pe-ru-na with such undeviating success that wherever it is used it ranks as the greatest tonic known.

In future articles I will recite other cases of similar interest. In doing so I shall not allow the slightest exaggeration or fiction to mar the realism which the simple facts alone give to any narrative of this kind.

Pe-ru-na, Man-a-lin and La-cu-pia manufactured by the Pe-ru-na Company, Columbus, Ohio. Sold at all drug stores.

SPECIAL NOTICE: Many persons inquire for The Old-Time Pe-ru-na. They want the Pe-ru-na that their Fathers and Mothers used to take. The old Pe-ru-na is now called Katarno. If you druggist or dealer does not keep it for sale, write the Katarno Company, Columbus, Ohio, and they will tell you all about it.

Points For the Thinking Farmer.

Now is an excellent time to lay that concrete walk that you promised your wife to make last winter, when the mud was ankle deep. These are excellent months for odd jobs on the farm.

No kind of manure, either animal excrement or fertilizers, will take the place of good, thorough tillage. Plow the land at the right time and to the right depth, then work it down to a mellow seed bed with disk and roller, and harrow.

A brick wall or foundation, while substantial enough, looks rather old fashioned now. The concrete or cement block foundation is the modern type and, like most modern things, is an improvement over that which preceded it. A great thing about concrete is its permanence and cheapness.

Good For Shelling Corn.

Any one can make and use this corn sheller, says the American Agriculturist, from which the picture and the description are taken. It is made of a piece of board six or eight inches long and about one and a half inches wide. At intervals of one-half or three-quarters of an inch notches are sawed on each edge and enlarged so as to take

HOMERMADE CORN SHELLER.

In a No. 10 or 11 wire. A hole is bored near each end and one end of a wire inserted and fastened.

Then the wire is wound as tightly as possible around the wood and fitted in the notches till the other end is reached, when the wire is passed through the other hole and fastened securely. All that is necessary is to rub this device over the corn and ears to loosen the grain.

Black Fox Farming.

There is in Prince Edward Island a new development which is attracting great attention in the shape of raising of fur bearing animals. It has been proved that the climate of the province is particularly suitable for the breeding of black foxes, and a number of farmers have embarked in the industry with the most profitable results. The fur of the black fox, owing to its rarity, has become exceedingly valuable, and the commissioner of agriculture for Prince Edward Island states that a pair of live foxes were sold recently for $5,000 and another pair for over $4,000.

The price of this spring's pups was over $2,000 a pair and $1,600 a pair, while a cash deposit varying from 10 to 25 per cent is being paid for fox cubs that are due to be born in the spring of 1913. "Black fox farming, as it is called, does not entail any considerable expense, the ranches consisting usually of an acre of ground with a steel wire enclosure about fifty feet square for two pairs, containing little houses for the animals.

END LIVER TROUBLE WITHOUT CALOMEL

Untrustworthy Drug, Thought to Loosen the Teeth, Now Made Absolutely Unnecessary.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are the mildest but surest laxative known, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. They are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. Dr. Edwards has been calomel's uncompromising foe. His efforts to banish it brought out these little olive-oil-colored tablets, a rare combination of vegetable compounds mixed with olive oil. These pleasant harmless little tablets do all the good that calomel does but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel at all, but to let Olive Tablets take their place.

Most headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Olive Tablets when you feel "toggery" and "heavy." Note how they "clear" the clouded brain and how they "perk up" the spirits.

At 10c and 25c a box. "Every little Olive Tablet has a movement all its own."

GRANDMA MAKES BABY'S CRADLE

Some modern grandmothers have discarded the knitting needles of a generation ago and are more strenuous in their work. One of these strenuous grandmothers is Mrs. Frances W. Shepardson, wife of Prof. Shepardson of the University of Chicago, who has just completed a mahogany four-posted cradle, which she will send as a Christmas gift to her tiny 3-months-old granddaughter, Frances May Shepardson of Redlands, Cal. From the cutting of the lumber to the final polishing and staining of the wood, the cradle is entirely the work of Mrs. Shepardson. She has been interested in such work for years and has made much of the furniture in her home. Two months ago she began work on the cradle for the baby daughter of her only son, Whitcomb Shepardson. It bears this inscription: "Frances May Shepardson, Xmas, from her grandmother, Cora M Shepardson." It will be packed and shipped across the continent before Christmas. — Chicago Blade.

Prof. Francis Shepardson is quite well known in Newark and Granville, having resided in the latter place with his parents.

The Every-Day Heroes About Us

HE was a motorman on the Belt Line at Niagara, and as the car sped around sharp curves almost at the edge of the foaming river, the lone passenger on the front seat said, "This must be rather dangerous in winter when the rails are slippery."

"Oh, this isn't anything," he said, giving the handle a twirl to put in more power. "I worked on the railroad before I took this job." He leaped to the side, and let the car whiz on by itself, while he spat out a large juicy mouthful of tobacco.

"I suppose there is more danger on the railroad," suggested the lone passenger hopefully.

"Yes. Some pretty tough jobs are put up to us. You see that bridge over there?" he asked, pointing to the steel structure that arched the river a hundred or so feet above.

The passenger nodded.

"One night about eleven o'clock, I was sent out there to examine the rails. It was bitter cold and the boss was afraid the frost would contract the rails and cause an accident. I crawled out underneath, in among that framework, d'you see? and made the examination."

The passenger looked up and shivered. She thought of the bitterly cold, dark night, of the raging, implacable torrent below, of the fatal result of one misstep in that complicated maze of seemingly cobwebby strands of wire, and suddenly a wave of admiration and respect for this grizzled, leather-beaten, apparently commonplace man swept over her. She thought of the passengers riding in comfort in the train soon to cross that bridge, and of how much depended upon this man, this man who looked so ordinary, and who, nine out of ten men meeting him on the street, would consider beneath them. Yet he had deliberately and without hesitation taken his life in his hands on that cold, dark night that those whom he didn't know, and would never even see, might be sure of safety.

There are many of these everyday heroes all about us, men in greasy and patched working clothes, who live poorly in squalid little streets, and whom we never give a thought to. Or if we do notice them, it is indifferently and as inferior to ourselves. Yet they may have done far more praiseworthy things than we ever could or would do, done them quite simply as part of their duty.

The lone passenger wondered that if among the men she knew there were any who would have climbed out on that bridge that dark, cold night to see if the rails were split. To do a commonplace, though deadly perilous thing like that, is different from acting the hero with bands playing and flags flying and the world looking on. And all about us in very ordinary clothes, are walking these every day heroes who have contributed, unknown and unappreciated by us, to our happiness and joy in life. Are they not worthy of our honor?

QUICKEST STOMACH RELIEF

KNOWN--PAPE'S DIAPEPSIN

In five minutes! Time it! All Indigestion, Heartburn and Dyspepsia gone and your stomach feels fine.

Wonder what upset your stomach—which portion of the food did the damage—do you? Well, don't bother. If your stomach is in a revolt; if sour, gassy and upset, and what you just are has fermented into stubborn lumps; your head dizzy and aches; belch gases and acids and eructate undigested food; breath foul, tongue coated—just take a little Diapepsin and in five minutes you will wonder what became of the indigestion and distress.

Millions of men and women today know that it is needless to have a bad stomach. A little Diapepsin occasionally keeps the stomach regulated and they eat their favorite foods without fear.

If your stomach doesn't take care of your liberal limit without rebellion; if your food is a damage instead of a help, remember the quickest, surest, most harmless relief is Pape's Diapepsin which costs only fifty cents for a large case at drug stores. It's truly wonderful—it digests food and sets things straight, so gently and easily that it is astonishing. Please don't go on with a weak, disordered stomach; it's so unnecessary.

WOODPECKERS OF LARGE SIZE

Species That Abound in Mexico and Central America Attain Large Proportions.

To those readers who may only be familiar with the average sized woodpeckers found in this country, it will be interesting to know that there are species of this famous group of birds in existence, which, even when compared with such sizable species as the well-known "flicker," appear in proportion like great ravens, placed by their lesser congeners, the garrulous magpies.

Our common pileated woodpecker, which ranges over North America at large, may attain a length of nearly 20 inches, while the handsome black woodpecker of northern Europe, the pic noir of the French, averages but three or four inches smaller.

Both of these, however, under-size the true giants of this interesting race of birds, for our ponderous ivory-billed woodpecker, now found only in the wilder timbered districts of the gulf states, has a length of 21 inches and a wing extent of nearly a yard. The magnificent imperial woodpecker of Mexico and Central America is even larger by an inch or more than the last-named species, and is truly a most remarkable bird.

There is one very peculiar thing about these big woodpeckers, and that is in their general coloration they are all of a glossy black, with white markings, and the males have brilliant scarlet crests or other color areas of the same on their heads.

The imperial and the ivory-billed have powerful white, chisel-cutting bills, capable of making great havoc with the partly decayed trunks of forest trees, where they search for the pine-destroying insects which constitute their chief food.

SHAKO TO BE RESTORED

British War Office Revives Historic Old Headdress in the Service.

The war office has at last definitely decided to adopt the shako for the full dress headgear of infantry of the line in place of the heavy and clumsy helmet.

The pattern to be adopted differs slightly from that worn for so many years by our infantry and will be much lower in the crown, approximating more to the kepi of the French infantry.

The new headdress is extremely light to wear and will be of a uniform pattern throughout the service. It will be worn only by the infantry and the royal artillery. The royal engineers, the army service corps, the royal army medical corps and other branches of the service will continue to wear the helmet until the new pattern can be provided for them.

The white helmet is also to be retained for the Indian service, and for the present the khaki helmet for the colonial service is not to be discarded.

Some new shakos are already manufactured, and it is proposed to send a soldier wearing one of them to Buckingham palace in order that it may be examined by the king, who will have the opportunity of comparing it with the present pattern helmet.

Large numbers of the new shako are to be manufactured immediately, and it is hoped that the whole of the infantry at home may be equipped with them not later than the end of next year.

It will not be necessary to apply to parliament for a supplementary estimate for the issue of the shako, since the war office has funds in hand out of which the cost can be met.

No decision has been arrived at yet as to the troops which shall first receive the new headdress, but a beginning will probably be made with those at Aldershot, and not in Ireland, as has been announced.

It is proposed that only the royal regiments shall wear a plume with the shako, though of course the plumes worn by the Scottish regiments that now have this head dress will not be interfered with.—Pall Mall Gazette.

FOR GRAY HAIR.

It Can Be Darkened Very Cleverly by Using This Simple Formula.

In this age, when one's personal appearance counts for so much, and when both the social and business world puts a ban upon everything that denotes the approach of age, it becomes a matter of duty to those whose hair is turning gray to adopt some rational means of darkening it thus hiding the traces of Time. An excellent and very simple solution of the problem is to procure at the drug store an ounce of pure camellia oil, a half ounce of pure castor oil, and a small box of Barbo Compound, and at home you can dissolve the Barbo Compound in 1 ounce of water, after which add the other two ingredients. This makes a remarkable effective mixture for darkening gray hair and for removing dandruff and other ills of the scalp, besides making the hair soft, glossy and ever looking. It darkens the beard as well as the hair. It is applied once a week until the hair is darkened once over; two weeks it does not rub off, and the skin and is much more satisfactory than the common dyes and stains.

EASY TO TEACH BLACKBIRD

Is a Natural Imitator and Responds Quickly to Training—Its Memory Strong.

The blackbird, which belongs to the thrush family, has strong imitative powers, and has been taught to speak. There is not much variety in its natural song, but its voice has a pure, flute-like tone and full volume. The bird is very susceptible of being trained, and when reared by hand from the nest is capable of forming strong attachments and makes itself a great favorite.

When a blackbird is six or eight weeks old, his training should be begun. Take him to a quiet room away from any other birds, and each night and morning whistle the portion of the tune you wish him to learn, or play it on the flute. Feed him before you begin, and put a fat, lively worm where he can see it. After you have whistled or played the air, say twenty times, stop, so that the bird may have an opportunity of imitating it.

If he should make the attempt, give him the worm at once, praising and caressing him meanwhile. He will soon begin to see why a reward was given to him, and will not be slow in trying to earn it. When once he has learned the tune he will never forget it, and it will pass into and become a part of his song.

After the blackbird has completed his education, he should be placed near some other singing bird, whose notes he would soon learn and blend with his own.

Put his cage out of doors whenever the weather permits, and he will tell you how pleased you have made him. But during the hot days of summer, let him be well shaded and kept cool, as heat and dry air seem to affect his voice. He will begin to sing in the end of February or the beginning of March, and will continue until the fall, if the summer is not too hot.

PHONE COMPANY MUST ISSUE A NEW DIRECTORY

Increase in Business Requires Publication of New Book Jan. 1—Get Your Order in Now.

Owing to the large increase in its service, the Newark Telephone company finds it necessary to issue a new directory, which is now being compiled, and will be ready for distribution as soon after January 1st, as possible. The last directory was issued in June, but contrary to usual practice, which has been annually, the company finds it necessary to allow only a six months period to elapse since the last issue.

On November 16th, the company had 4651 instruments in service on its system, which includes three exchanges: Newark, Granville and Haver. The rural lines extend from Insburg county on the east, to Alexandria on the west boundary of the territory. There is in this territory, 526 rural telephone already in service, and new subscribers are being added daily. A large force of men has been busy engaged during the past thirty days building new rural lines to connect with the Haver exchange, and a new trunk line made necessary by this increase.

Within a few days, twenty-five subscribers will be added at this point.

If there are any corrections to be made to your name or address since the last issue of the directory, kindly notify the Manager in writing of the same. Should you wish to have an instrument installed in your residence or office, call the Manager's office, No. 1005 and we will send our agent to call on you.

The company has automatic free toll lines to its Granville and Haver exchanges, and a "rapid fire" long distance line to the Columbus Citizens Automatic Telephone Exchange. The toll operator, at The Newark exchange is the only operator between the Newark subscriber and the Columbus party to whom he may wish to talk.

All additions and changes must be sent to the company's office not later than DECEMBER 10th, to be incorporated in the new book. (adv.)

ANXIOUS MOTHER SEEKS LOST SON

Local Salvation Army officers have received a letters from Mrs. Anna Fletcher, 517 Division Street, Bellevue, Pa., asking them to assist her in locating Frank Fletcher, age 20, years, who was last heard from in Newark more than a year ago.

The mother originally wrote to Pittsburg Salvationists, but efforts to locate the man there failed. She told the officers that her son left home to secure work.

More than a year ago she received a letter from him postmarked Newark, O., saying that he had a job here but he neglected to give any street address here and his mother did not reply to the letter.

She fears that he took offense at her failure to write and that he is still "miffed" by her apparent neglect.

He is described as being about 20 years old, dark hair and dark eyes. He is about 5 feet and 5 inches in height. Information regarding the man sent to the Advocate will be turned over to Capt. McMahon who she fears that he took offense at will communicate directly with the young man's mother.

PREDICTS THE DESTRUCTION OF ALL GOVERNMENTS

Lecture by H. A. Weaver at Advent Church Tuesday Evening Highly Enjoyable.

That the kingdoms and all earthly governments of this world are shortly to be destroyed and Christ's Kingdom established was strongly argued last night by H. A. Weaver in his lecture at the Adventist church.

The text of his discourse was the 4th verse of the second chapter of the book of Daniel, which says: "And in the days of these kings shall the God of Heaven set up a Kingdom which shall never be destroyed. And the kingdom shall not be left to other people, but it shall break in pieces and consume all these kingdoms, and it shall stand forever."

These words were spoken under inspiration by the Prophet Daniel to the king of ancient Babylon as part of an interpretation to a remarkable dream which God had given the king. The dream runs thus: "Thou, O king, sawest and beheld a great image. This great image, whose brightness was excellent, stood before thee and the form was terrible. This image's head was of fine gold, his breast and his arms of silver, his belly and his thighs of brass, his legs of iron, his feet part of iron and part of clay. Thou sawest till that a stone was cut out without hands, which smote the image upon his feet, that were of iron and clay and brake them to pieces. Then was the iron, the clay, the brass, the silver and the gold broken to pieces together and became like the chaff of the summer threshing floors; and the wind carried them away that no place was found for them, and the stone that smote the image became a great mountain and filled the whole earth."

"Then the interpretation follows, in which it was revealed to Daniel, by the Lord's spirit, that the four metallic portions of the image represented the four universal empires that would rule the world from that time to the fifth century A. D., when the fourth kingdom would be divided into ten kingdoms, represented by the ten toes of the feet, and these separate kingdoms would remain until the coming of the fifth universal kingdom, which would be Christ's kingdom, and it would stand forever."

"Comparing the history that follows with the prophecy given, we see that the Babylonian kingdom, represented by the head of gold, was overthrown by the Medo-Persian kingdom in the year B. C. 538. The Medo-

Persian kingdom was overthrown by the Grecian kingdom, under Alexander, in the year B. C. 331. Grecia, in turn, was conquered by the Romans in the year B. C. 161. And the Romans ruled the world till the fifth century A. D., when the great hordes of barbarians, inhabiting the north of Europe, one by one, set up their empires within the borders of Roman territory, thus putting an end to the universal empire idea.

"The prophecy goes on to say that the ruling families of these different European kingdoms would seek to re-unite the broken fragments of the once powerful Roman Empire and that they would go so far as to intermarry to bring about this result, but that so far from accomplishing this end they would always be divided just as the symbol indicated. Iron will not mix with myrry clay. A glance at the warlike preparations being made continually in Europe today is enough to convince anybody that the Word of God is being literally fulfilled in our day.

"We are now living in the days of these kings, England, France, Germany, etc. We are now dawn in the toes of the image. The stone will soon smite the image and Christ's faithful followers will be given the kingdom for which they have so long prayed, 'Thy kingdom come.'"

The subject announced for tonight is, "The manner of the second coming of Christ."

BALDERNOCK KIRK—SCENE OF SECOND ACT.
"BUNTY PULLS THE STRINGS" AT AUDITORIUM TONIGHT.

ELKS HOLD BANQUET AND INITIATION

The beauties of Elk ritualism were splendidly exemplified Tuesday evening at what is considered by local members of the fraternity to have been the most interesting meeting of the order since its inception in this city. With two hundred Elks present, each one filled with a magnificent spirit of brotherhood, and a desire to inculcate into the candidates for admission to Elksdom the impressiveness of the order's ideals, the evening was spent in a promising development of the ritual, at the close of which a banquet was tendered in honor of the four men who took upon themselves the estimable duties of fraternalism.

The attendance was by far the largest that has ever been recorded at an initiation meeting, and the splendor with which the ritual was carried out was a revelation to many who have been negligent in their attendance. Attired in full dress, the officers pronounced their work with unusual fidelity of interpretation, giving to the four candidates a profound sense of the pledges that they were about to take.

Of course, the goat was there, and the fact that it had been kept in close seclusion for several days, without any satisfaction of its ravenous appetite, did not sweeten its temper in the least. Its antics were often rather sudden, and caused amusement for the spectators and considerable chagrin for the subjects of the goat's wrath. The work was exemplified by the Elks' degree team, comprising Messrs. Samuel Brown, George Graessner, Charles Allen and Warner Devos, and the candidates were John May, H. G. Glancey, Charles P. Roach and C. J. Wagenheim.

At the close of the ritual exemplification, the Elks repaired to the banquet hall, which had been liberally decorated in the royal purple of Elksdom and a profusion of cut flowers and potted plants, and there, seated around two tables running the entire length of the room, was served a most charming banquet.

The banquet was served by William Hohl and Charles Livingston, stewards of the Newark lodge. A corps of handsome waiters, selected from the local lodge, assisted in making this portion of the program a splendid success.

The clearing of the tables was the signal for the beginning of another feast—this time of the choicest viands of oratory, presided over in his customary capable manner by Exalted Ruler J. F. Cherry.

Mr. J. F. Irwin responded to the toast of Elksdom and his remarks were along the line of good fellowship and the betterment of mankind by following the Elks' creed.

Archibald Davis was the next speaker and his remarks were greatly enjoyed by all, being pertinent and appropriate to the occasion.

Ex-Mayor Auker who has quite a reputation as an after dinner orator, next spoke on the good of the order and he gave the diners many facts to ponder over which will undoubtedly result in much good.

H. D. Hale was next called upon and responded to the toast on "Elks I have met at home and abroad."

William H. Broome proved a veritable Chauncey Depew. He surprised his friends by a flow of oratory that was clothed in flowery language and which when dissected could not help but leave a lasting impression that Elksdom assists to inspire its members to better things and that the right hand of fellowship should always be extended those worthy applicants found knocking at its portals.

J. J. Cooper gave an excellent talk for the good of the order, referring to many things that could and should be accomplished by the local lodge. His remarks were heartily commended by all present. Mr. Cooper proving one of the agreeable speakers of the evening.

County Treasurer James Rutledge next gave an excellent ten-minute talk and was followed by Will Smith whose little efforts along the oratorical line always are delightful.

Warner "Cupid" Devos was introduced by the toastmaster as the silver-tongued orator from Knox county. Mr. Devos is a member of the Mr. Vernon lodge of Elks and is said to have learned to orate by spouting daily along the banks of the raging Potomac. His talk was a gem, the price of it being deplored by everyone.

Toastmaster Frank Cherry wound up a very pleasant and agreeable evening by praising all who had assisted in the initiation and also those who had prepared the excellent banquet.

Dogs as Beasts of Burden.

A memory of the times when dogs worked for a living in England is seen in the "dog cart," which originally was literally drawn by dogs, and, until prohibited in 1839 by act of parliament, was the workman's usual means of taking a run into the country. Strong half-bred mastiffs were usually employed, and these thought nothing of conveying their masters 50 or 60 miles in a day with no more sustenance than bread soaked in beer.

Everybody reads the Want Column

AMUSEMENTS

Bunty Pulls the Strings.
The theatrical page of two continents, "Bunty Pulls the Strings," will be the attraction at the Auditorium tonight.

Through the aid of the great newspaper system of America, the real successes, be it of the stage, books or in fact any product, of merit, soon become known for their real worth, and that was the case of "Bunty Pulls the Strings." It entered New York practically unheralded and entirely unknown, was given a hearing, and the following day, through the aid of the New York dailies, Bunty was stamped the greatest success of the season. Before the end of the month theatre-goers through the country, even as far as the Pacific coast, were alive to the fact that a new success had been born.

Bunty is different from all other plays and so are the players, inasmuch as the story is laid in the Highlands of Scotland and the players are all natives and to the manner born. The play itself is simple and direct, and in its simplicity lies its greatest charm. Tammas Bigger, Bunty's father, is a steel-ribbed, hide-bound Calvinist, a pillar of the church, who ranks first in a small community, but his religious qualities are built on a false foundation.

The Traveling Salesman.

An announcement that will be of interest to the ladies of our city is made in connection with the coming engagement of James Forbes' comedy, "The Traveling Salesman," that will be presented at the Auditorium Saturday, Dec. 7, matinee and night.

The second act represents the sample room in a hotel, and as Bob Blake is supposed to be a coat and suit drummer, the managers of the company, in view of the fact that the ladies are always interested in the latest styles of gowns, have taken advantage of the opportunity to display the latest creations of the dressmaker's art for the delectation of our feminine contingent of theatre-goers. One gown displayed never fails to evoke exclamations of admiration from the ladies who see it. The vocabulary of the layman to describe this exquisite creation is inadequate, but it is a safe assertion to make that not one woman in a thousand would fail to see all the beauty in lines and texture. This gown is a dressmaker's sample, seized by the United States customs inspectors as it was being smuggled into this country, and it was purchased at the appraiser's sale of smuggled goods held recently in New York.

An Excellent Repertoire.

The repertoire of the National Stock company, which appears at the Auditorium all next week, is decidedly unusual, including, as it does, an entire line of plays which are now presented at regular prices for the first time. Among the productions to be given during the engagement are "The Power of Politics," "Catching the Blame," "The Angel of the Trail," "Wife in Name Only," "The Woman of Mystery," "My Dixie Girl" and others. They will all be presented with their complete scenic effects, each production having all the original settings and properties. The opening play for Monday night will be "The Power of Politics." Ladies free Monday night under usual conditions.

The Girl of My Dreams.

Ye who pine under monotony welcome John Hyams and Lella McIntyre in the charming musical play, "The Girl of My Dreams," which comes to the Auditorium Tuesday, Dec. 17. It is an express train to Happyland and a blending of pretty girls with cheerful music, a bunch of laughter tinged with just a touch of sentiment. The company is large and well balanced and is headed by Lella McIntyre and John Hyams, whose dry humor and droll mannerisms have placed this comedian in the front ranks of laugh producers. Miss McIntyre is a delicate and genuine artist. Two of her songs, "O-o-h" (Maybe It's a Robber) and "Dr. Tinkle Tinker," have made decided hits.

The scenic mountings of the piece and the costumes are splendid and appropriate, while the staging of the ensemble numbers and novelties with which "The Girl of My Dreams" abounds are unique and original.

The book is by Wilbur D. Nesbit and Otto Haverbach, music by Karl Hoschna. The cast includes, besides Miss McIntyre and Mr. Hyams, Alice Hillis, Irving Brooks, Della Niven, Nell Burns, Sylvia De Frankie, Francis Gaillard, Frank McEwen, Adele Doulais and Joseph Harris.

The Orpheum.

Another quartette for the Orpheum for Thursday, Friday and Saturday, the Orpheum Quartette, will head the bill. Many good songs are used by these young men.

Silber and North are character comedians and have a singing and talking comedy act, and lots of fun with it.

The Russells have a spectacular dancing act and many electrical effects are used. There are some real dancers.

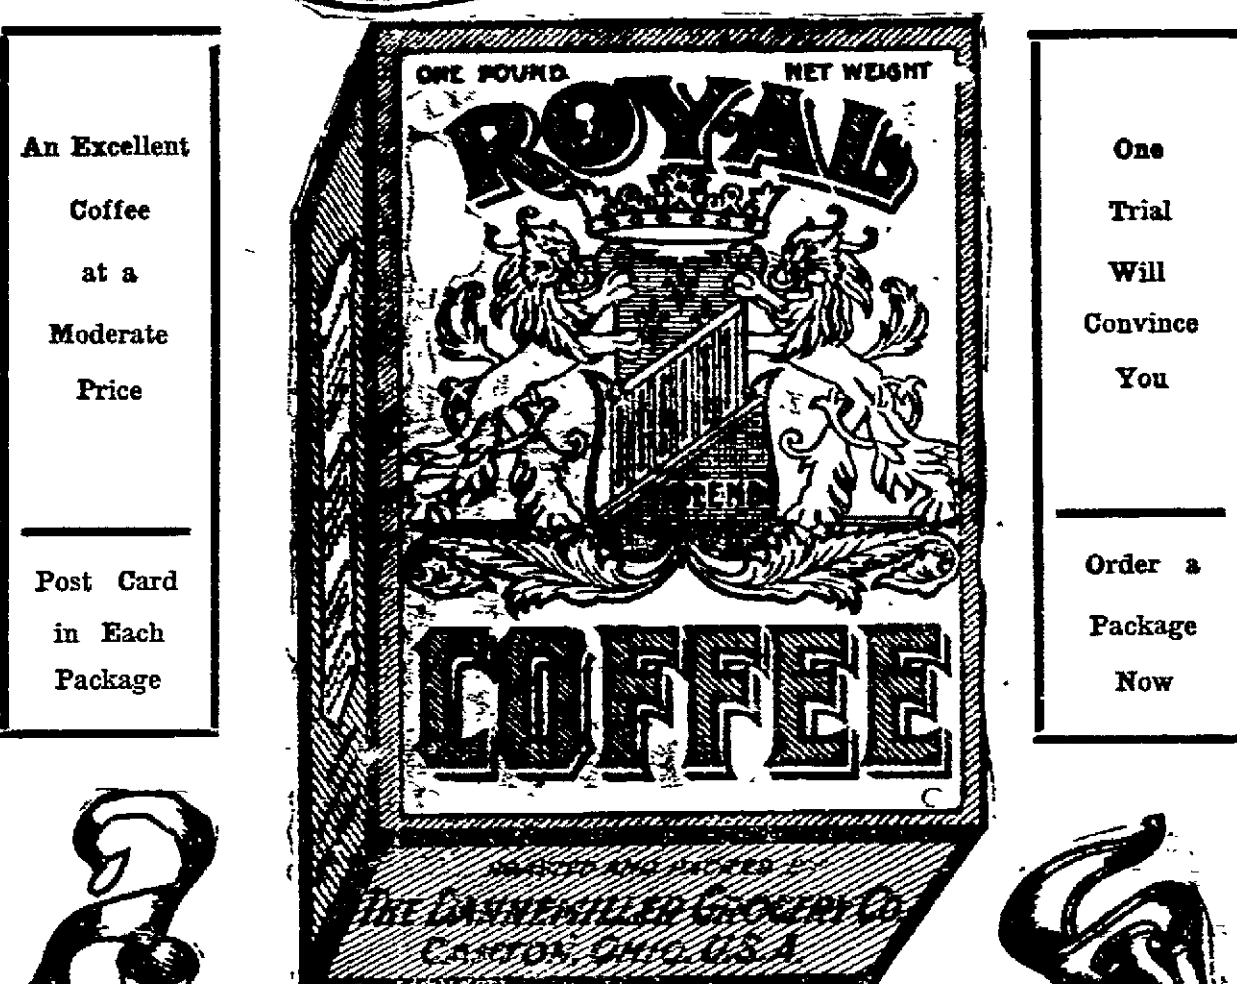

Miss Olive Wood as Buster Brown in a singing act with many character changes and is said to be very clever.

The Murracope will close the bill with feature films. Don't forget the ladies' Souvenir matinee Friday. Each lady will receive a handsome present.

"My goodness, you don't mean to tell me that little can costs Fifty Cents?"

"Makes about 100 cups? Well, that's different."

"Let's see, that's about half a cent a cup."

"And you say it's in powder, and a little over half a teaspoonful stirred in a cup of hot water makes Postum instantly, and with perfect flavour?"

"Well, that surely would be a comfort."

"Oh yes, some members in most every family have stomach or nervous trouble with coffee, and it's fine to have a snappy beverage like Postum that don't break down the nerves."

"I'm glad you brought to my attention this

INSTANT POSTUM

Thanks."

MEETING OF SCHOOL BOARD LAST EVENING

Exhibition of Lower Grades in Painting and Paper-Cutting Pleases Board Members.

An exhibition of the drawing, painting and paper-cutting work of school children diverted the thoughts of the members of the board of education from the onerous duties of routine at Tuesday night's meeting, while three doleful communications from the Dawson Construction company of the Pittsburgh lent a touch of genuine comedy to the deliberations of the body. The samples of drawing and paper cutting were shown to the board by Miss Edith McCoy, instructor in drawing, during the course of a plea for a small allowance for supplies necessary to the successful prosecution of the work.

The "Dawson Letters" emanated from the Pittsburgh office of the firm which is constructing the new buildings in Grant street and South Fifth street. Architect Redding and the local board have not been satisfied with the speed attained by the contractors on these two buildings, and at the last meeting a resolution was adopted notifying the Dawson company that unless the work was prosecuted with due diligence the board would exercise its contract right and place more men at work. The company responded that it wished to go on record as being "again" any such actions and averred that it was making all speed in the work. The contractors maintain that the board has violated the contract in reference to the payment for the work and also informs the board that an extension of time in finishing the buildings may be necessary. The board was not disposed to give the letters much consideration, in view of the fact that they are but another link in a rather voluminous correspondence on the part of the contractors. One member suggested that the Dawson people seem under the impression that the plans and specifications for the buildings include about three letters to the board at each meeting.

President Edward Kibler presided at the deliberations of the board and Mr. Miller, Mr. Dewey, Mr. Haight and Mr. Broome were the members present.

Among the bills allowed were estimate No. 5 in conjunction with the buildings under construction. The estimates were: The Dawson Construction company, Grant Street Building, $1,646.07; South Fifth Street Building, $1,083.44; Showers & Taylor, Stevens Street Building, $2,351.75; The Roedel company, plumbing, $37.50.

Miss McCoy, head of the drawing department, asked the board for an allowance for the purchase of charcoal, paper and burlap, the latter for the mounting of drawings for exhibition purposes. Miss McCoy outlined the work contemplated and showed a number of samples of color work and charcoal drawing. The board asked her to prepare estimates and prices and the matter was referred to the supply committee with power to act.

The bid of the Newark Electric company of $126.50 for lighting equipment and wiring for the North Fourth Street school was received and referred to the member in charge.

The secretary of the Sylvia Bible class wrote the board, expressing gratitude for the low rental of the High School Auditorium for the Mary Jordan concert.

The communications from the Dawson Construction company were read by Mr. Haight, the clerk.

Superintendent Hawkins requested the board to fix the time and duration of the Christmas recess. It was voted that the recess extend from December 20 to January 6.

Mr. Hawkins commented on the wishes that have come to the High school from members of the Board of Trade, who saw the school in action recently, and said that plans were being made to have one of the afternoon sessions postponed until evening in the near future, at which time all the parents of the city may have opportunity to see the big 40-room building during all the class-room activities of a regular school session.

The following bids of The Roedel company for lighting fixtures for the new buildings were accepted:

Stevens street, $95.
Grant street, $212.50.
South Fifth street, $251.85.

The matter of the adjustment of teacher's compensation during times when the teachers are absent and their work is done by substitutes, was brought up and the members expressed themselves in favor of a readjustment in view of the fact that two substitutes are on regular salaries, which are sometimes greater and sometimes less than that of the teacher whose place they fill. The matter was taken under advisement and action was deferred.

The matter of promiscuous and unauthorized ordering of supplies by the heads of various departments was broached and one or two of the offenders in this respect were criticized by the board. After discussion a resolution was adopted that all supplies be ordered by the board, the heads of the departments making requisitions to the superintendent, who in turn, will submit them to the board, with his recommendation for final action.

One of the interesting features of the meeting came near the end of the session when C. M. Thompson who was introduced as a representative of The Cleveland Seating company and impromptu the board to contract with him at once for the purchase of seats for the three buildings now under construction.

Mr. Thompson who, in addition to his duties as representative of the Cleveland Seating company, is understood to be the accredited representative of The American Book company, gave the casual observer the impression of a man in a hurry when he told the board that he wanted a committee appointed by the chair to examine the products of his company and counseled speed of action on the part of the directors of the city's education in closing contracts because he, the salesman of the seat company, wanted "to take a trip South in the near future" and for that reason to get the matter settled.

Mr. Thompson did not seem to take into consideration the fact that the General Code specifically provides that when a board of education contemplates the building, repair or furnishing of a school house or school houses in a city district when the amount to be spent will exceed fifteen hundred dollars it must advertise for and receive sealed bids.

In view of the fact that the board will be in the market for about one thousand seats at a price per seat of $2.50 to $3.00 it is evident that the limit set by the code will be passed and it will be necessary to ask for bids from other concerns than that represented by Mr. Thompson. A member of the board stated today that bids from other firms will be asked.

Mr. Thompson was loud in his assertions that his firm lived on competition and that he welcomed any comparison, but his very evident desire to push the matter with more than usual despatch gave every opportunity for the pessimist to cherish some slight doubt.

CHEESECLOTH FOR TRUCK.

Better Than Glass as a Shelter For Growing Vegetables.

The past summer, for the first time, I tried cheesecloth shelters in my kitchen garden, says a Country Gentleman writer. Next summer I am going to have more vegetables under cheesecloth, for it is great stuff. Some old boards were lying round—half-inch lumber about eight inches wide. I cut them up into pieces fifteen inches long. Four of these pieces nailed together made a square frame—a box without top or bottom. Over the top I tacked a piece of cheesecloth. There was lumber for only twenty-four of them, and I put eight over some cucumber plants started in the house, eight over watermelons and eight over muskmelons. Results were most definite. We had cucumbers from the sheltered vines two weeks earlier than usual and watermelons as big as coconuts before plants that were set in the open had formed fruit. The white shelter has a forcing effect and yet permits hardy growth. Cloth has an advantage over glass in that it lets in moisture. It is also a protection against bugs.

When the vines under cloth outgrew the frames I removed them. Just then I was nursing along a dozen eggplants. With bugs, dry weather and other disadvantages, it seemed as if they would not live. Twelve of the frames were clapped over these plants, and in two days the effect could be seen in whole, healthy green leaves. Then some brussels sprouts came for transplanting in July, when the sky was like brass. I put them right out as soon as received, with a cheesecloth frame over each, and they grew as if they had been transplanted in a week of rain.

Cheesecloth is cheap. If you buy a bolt of it, about seventy-five yards, it costs about 2 1/2 cents a yard. The coarse, unbleached variety a yard wide is what you want.

CLOVER FOR THE SOIL.

It Will Make Poor Land Richer and Can Be Grown Easily.

The trouble with soils when they cease to produce as they did when new is not that the elements of plant food are actually exhausted from the soil, but the necessary forces for the liberation are exhausted. One of these forces is bacteria. It is estimated that in the common soil there are 150 million bacteria to the ounce. These bacteria must have humus (decayed vegetable matter) for their food; then they will liberate food for the growth of plants.

The supply of humus, the supply of nitrogen, the physical condition of the soil, the penetration, aeration and porosity of the subsoil, can be established by the growth of sweet clover at a cheapness that is startling. Nor is it a hard plant to grow. It is one of the hardiest of the leguminous plants. It seems to establish itself on old, worn-out soils where other legumes will not grow at all and where field crops grow so poorly as not to pay. Owing to these characteristics and to the fact that its bacteria are capable of living and prospering on the roots of alfalfa, it is perhaps the best possible plant with which to precede alfalfa in sections where there is difficulty in securing a successful growth of that plant.—Kansas Industrialist.

AUTO OUTPUT IS 600,000 FOR 1913

The output of America's motor car industry for 1913, according to figures compiled recently by a leading automobile trade paper, will exceed 600,000 cars, more than twice as many as were built in 1912.

It is a marvelous growth in production. And there is also a very marked improvement in the cars themselves. More advanced features have been added to cars for 1913 than have been added in the three previous years.

FIRST THINGS

The first step toward the suppression of the Inquisition, or Holy Office, in Spain was taken 194 years ago today, Dec. 4, 1808, by an edict issued by Napoleon. A few years later it was revived, but in 1913 the cortes passed a law abolishing the office. The following year the Inquisition was restored by King Ferdinand VII, but it was finally abolished by an act of the cortes in 1820. While the Inquisition was established in other countries, it was in Spain that it reached its full flower of fiendish malignity. Lloriente estimates that in 236 years the total number of persons put to death in Spain by the Inquisition was 22,000, while 291,000 others were subjected to tortures too horrible to contemplate. The Inquisition may be said to date from the year 382, when Theodosius made heresy and spiritual offenses punishable by death. In Spain the torture of heretics or those suspected of that "crime" was called the auto-da-fe, "an act of faith." Pietro da Verona, the first inquisitor who burned heretics, was canonized. In 1481 no less than 20,000 persons were put to death in Andalusia. 2000 being burned alive, following the revival of the Inquisition that took place during the reign of Ferdinand and Isabella.
